REPEAT CRIMINAL

A lone male entered a bank branch and gave the teller a note demanding cash and stating that he had a bomb. The teller complied and gave him cash and a Cash Tracker™. He fled the branch and went into the NYC Subway system, riding the trains downtown and then back uptown. The Cash Tracker reported his location when it accessed WiFi and cell sites, and police were able to narrow in on his location – Grand Central Station! They shut down train traffic until patrol officers were able to locate and safely arrest the suspect. All the stolen cash was recovered. This suspect is wanted for a robbery pattern in NYC where he attempted two bank robberies shortly before this nearly-successful robbery.

ARMED TAKEOVER ROBBERY

On July 30th, four suspects entered a cannabis dispensary in Bellevue, WA, and conducted an armed takeover robbery. They stole product and cash, and unknowingly took a Cash Tracker™. The suspects fled to a getaway car driven by a fifth suspect. They got on the freeway and drove through multiple jurisdictions before they were finally stopped in Seattle. They stopped several times during their flight and only three suspects were still in the vehicle when it was stopped. The remaining three tried to flee on foot but were apprehended. The total recovery is unknown, and police are working to identify and arrest the other two robbers. This crew is suspected of multiple other robberies in Seattle.

Beauty Store – Covington, WA – July 15

This crime was committed by a three-person ORC crew that has been active in the area. The crew entered the location, swept an estimated $10,000 worth of merchandise off the shelves, and fled. Luckily, they also stole an ORC Tracker™. The ORC Tracker reported the crime and the suspects' location to police who located and followed the suspects, finally making a stop 5 minutes and 55 minutes from the crime scene. The suspects were arrested, and the vehicle impounded pending a warrant. The police expect a full or nearly-full recovery. Numerous other agencies have contacted the detective looking to clear other area cases.

1 arrest

Bank – Kirkland, WA – July 17

A lone suspect entered a bank branch and passed a demand note to the teller. He was given cash and a Cash Tracker™. The path of the tracker showed him walking through several nearby parking lots until he reached his vehicle. The device left the location and went into the busy downtown area of Kirkland. The tracker showed where he parked his car and which restaurant he entered. The officers entered the restaurant and did not see him. They checked the rest room and found him there, trying to get rid of the tracker. He was taken into custody without incident and all the stolen cash was recovered. The sergeant said that "the tracker worked flawlessly." The suspect's information has been given to the FBI who will investigate if the suspect is wanted in any other cases.

Convenience Store – Windsor Mill, MD – July 19

A lone suspect entered a convenience store and approached the clerk. He announced a robbery while striking the clerk with an unknown object. The suspect ordered him to open the register and the clerk complied. The suspect then removed cash from the register and also stole a Cash Tracker™ before fleeing. The tracker led patrol units to locate a male who was just entering a vehicle. A traffic stop was made, and probable cause was developed to conduct a cursory search of the vehicle. Evidence believed to be related to this robbery was located so the subject was arrested, and the vehicle was towed. Detectives believe this suspect is responsible for two prior robberies at this same store. Fortunately, the clerk was not seriously injured.

Bank – Wilkes Barre, PA – July 23

Wilkes Barre Police responded to a bank branch in response to an Armed Robbery. A lone male suspect had entered the branch, displayed a sawed-off shotgun, and demanded money. He was given cash and a Cash Tracker™ which alerted the local PD. A perimeter was quickly set up in the area. Using information from the Cash Tracker, his vehicle was located and stopped by a K9 officer. When the officer approached, the suspect drove away, hitting several parked vehicles. He was eventually stopped, fled on foot, and was arrested and booked. Police recovered the shotgun used in the robbery. All the stolen cash was recovered, and the suspect was charged with Armed Bank Robbery, Resisting Arrest, and Fleeing and Eluding with a Vehicle.
